

THE NEW YORK PRESS.

Editorial Opinions of the Leading Journals Upon the Most Important Topics of the Hour.

Compiled every day for evening telegraph from the Tribune.

Indication Quicker than the following, which he evidently regards as the quintessence of financial and monetary wisdom.

Axton:—There can be no late restoration of specie payments without a tariff high enough to prevent our imports of commodities (other than specie) exceeding our exports.

FRANKS BY THE TRIBUNE.

To promise nobody will accuse us of hostility or pretense by means of a differential return on some cases, high duties. And yet we say the writer of the above does not know what he is talking.

From the Times.

The Tribune has thrown off the mask under which it has for some time assailed the President, and openly arraigns him on a charge of dilatoriness to the Union party, by whom he was elected.

We fancy that our contemporary has discovered the futility and unprofitableness of its recent tactics. It has found out that to strive by cowardly innuendo to damage the reputation of Andrew Johnson...

But now, under the influence of contraction or approach to resumption, prices are tending downward. Pork, coal, domestic goods, and almost everything else, are 15 to 25 per cent cheaper than they were three or four months ago.

Nearly all prices are declining; hence, it is not a good time to import, as importers well know. And the faster we gravitate towards specie payments, the smaller and fewer will be the orders sent to Europe.

Turning our correspondent's "axiom" end for end, therefore, we say:— We cannot stand an inflated currency, because our tariff is too low.

The Danger of the Republicans—The Fate of Sectional Parties.

From the Herald.

The Republican party, in the plenitude of its power, is in danger of going to pieces. After carrying the country safely through the most formidable and perilous Rebellion in the history of any nation, this powerful party is suddenly brought face to face with an administration of its own choosing on the comparatively simple question of the restoration of the Union.

In a conflict between the broad, comprehensive national policy of President Johnson and the narrow, fanatical, sectional ideas of Thaddeus Stevens, it is manifest that Stevens and his faction must give way.

Mr. Thaddeus Stevens and his retainers, however, reject the President's work and his arguments, and demand a course of treatment towards the excluded States as against a section.

Now that a mere sectional party under the peace establishment cannot stand is proved by all our past experience. The old Federal party, which we may say came into possession of the Government after the war, made the fatal mistake of the national form of Clay's great compromise measures on the slavery question.

and started full drive on the downward road to destruction till it went over and was lost in the abyss of the late Rebellion. The work of ruin that was commenced under the parody of poor Pierce was consummated under the winning facility and servadence of poor old Buchanan.

The old Jeffersonian Republican party died a more natural death in 1860 it went on increasing in strength till 1858, when, left without an opposition party in the field, it was broken up and disbanded in the Presidential scramble between Jackson, Adams, Crawford, and Clay.

The Relation of the President to Political Parties.

The Tribune has thrown off the mask under which it has for some time assailed the President, and openly arraigns him on a charge of dilatoriness to the Union party, by whom he was elected.

We fancy that our contemporary has discovered the futility and unprofitableness of its recent tactics. It has found out that to strive by cowardly innuendo to damage the reputation of Andrew Johnson...

22d of February speech as they thunder. What does this prove against the President? Surely he is not to be held accountable for what "Copperheads and impatient Rebels" choose to "hail," but only for what he himself says, judging of it according to the provisions of the Constitution and the standards of his own party.

The question for the true Union men to consider is, not whether their opponents are gladdened or depressed, but whether the principles enunciated by their official chief are constitutional and right, and whether the policy he indicates is calculated to secure an enduring restoration of the Union.

Instead of seeing in the support which a portion of the Democracy give to President Johnson evidence of his party's infidelity, we trace in it testimony to the sagacity of his statesmanship and the strength of his position.

The Mother of the Regiment.—A letter from Loupaine, in Belgium, says:—"The venerable General Wautier, who, notwithstanding his ninety-five years, went to meet his new sovereign, Leopold, when making his entrance into Brussels, would be glad to surprise the king that there still lives, at the village of Visville, near Gosselies, a former cavalier of La Tour's Dragoons, now one hundred and two years of age.

ABOUT BOOTS AND SHOES.—The costliness of shoes and boots, like other things, is on the increase in Paris. Shoes or evening wear are made either of white gros grain, or satin, or silk to match the dress, elaborately embroidered with beads.

CHARLES DICKENS.—The London correspondent of the Tribune writes:—"Everybody has seen that to this complexion the affair would come at last, and there is a general feeling of relief now that the Pharisee is seen to be an unscrupulous partisan, and the virtuous reviler an unmistakable enemy."

PROSPECTUS OF THE CARSON GOLD MINING COMPANY.

CAPITAL STOCK $500,000. NUMBER OF SHARES, 50,000.

Far Value and Subscription Price, $10. WORKING CAPITAL $50,000.

OFFICERS: PRESIDENT, COLONEL WILLIAM B. THOMAS.

SECRETARY AND TREASURER, J. HOPKINS TA. SOLICITOR, WILLIAM L. HIRSE.

DIRECTORS: COLONEL WILLIAM B. THOMAS, CHARLES S. OGDEN, EDWIN MIDDLETON, ALEXANDER J. HARPER, WILLIAM BERGER.

The Land of this Company consists of about 120 Acres, in a beautiful country, North Carolina, about 25 miles from the town of Charlotte.

On this property fifteen shafts of 100 feet depth, and various depths, from 10 to 100 feet, demonstrating the existence of large masses of ore.

Having an ore that readily yields $200 per ton, some estimate can be made of its value as property. With the present improved system of mining, ten tons of ore can be taken out and reduced to metal every day.

The large working capital reserved will enable the Company at once to procure and erect the best modern machinery for manipulating the ore, by means of which the yield will be largely increased.

These mines, whilst they produce ore richer than those of Colorado or Nevada, have many advantages in their location, and the facility with which they can be worked during the entire year.

A test assay of an average specimen of the ore from the Carson Mines was made on the 7th of January of the present year, as will appear from the following certificate, which is signed by the Assayers of the Philadelphia Mint.

PHILADELPHIA, JANUARY 27, 1866. Dear Sir:—We have carefully assayed the sample of ore from "Carson Mine," North Carolina, and find it to yield ten ounces of pure gold from every ton of ore.

PHILADELPHIA, SEPTEMBER 18, 1858. We have carefully tested the sample of CHESTNUT GROVE WHISKY which you sent us, and find that it contains 40 per cent of pure alcohol.

PHILADELPHIA, SEPTEMBER 18, 1858. We have analyzed a sample of GROVE WHISKY which you have analyzed from North Carolina, and find it to contain 40 per cent of pure alcohol.
